Dora's Parent Account Has Been Created

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying "rdsparentaccess/home.aspx?SID=544dc620-1a82-4dc9-b859-4425064d4127". The browser's search bar shows "Y Yahoo". Below the address bar, there is a "Suggested Sites" section with a link to "Web Slice Gallery". The main content area has a blue header with navigation buttons: "home", "add a student", "account settings", "help", and "logout". The "RDS parent access" logo is prominently displayed. A red arrow points to the left sidebar, which contains the user's name "Explorer, Dora T", their grade "Grade 12", their school "Test High School", and a "View: Default" option. The main content area features a "Welcome to RDS Parent Access" message, stating "You are logged in as Test Mom Test Explorer." and providing instructions on how to view student information. Below this, there are two buttons: "add a student" and "account settings". A message at the bottom of the main content area explains the purpose of these buttons. The footer of the page includes the copyright notice "copyright 1985 to 2014 Regional Data Services" and the "RDS" logo.
